

Need Chorus, Comedians to Use in Show

Woerner Makes Definite Announcement That Gala Night Show Will Be a Musical Comedy.

SIX CONTESTANTS

A show written by Ralph Kahn and Adolph Schneider was accepted by the Gala committee yesterday. Tryouts are slated for Monday noon in the gymnasium.

Fourteen chorus girls wanted. Also two comedians, of the best. Might use pair of singers. Call Troy Woerner, Gala Day chairman, Municipal University.

Woerner posted a notice to that effect on the bulletin board in Joslyn hall Wednesday after a decision that the Gala Night show will be a musical comedy.

Show Not Picked

"I haven't picked a show as yet," stated Woerner. "I can't say whether one of the shows that were submitted in the recent contest will be used or not. But whatever happens, there will be a musical show of some kind on Gala Night."

Aspirants for the five dollar prize to be given the writer of the accepted show were the following: Neva Heflin, Ed Darnell, and in collaboration, Ralph Kahn, '35-Adolph Schneider, '37, and Paul Brawner, '35-William Metzger, '36.

Assigns Duties

Miss Heflin, assistant in the department of sociology, and Mr. Darnell, who is not connected with the University, wrote synopses. Kahn-Schneider and Brawner-Metzger wrote complete shows.

Woerner announced appointment of the following committeemen: Glen Cunningham, '34, publicity; Dan Macken, '35, ticket sales; John Moueka, '36, sports; Carson Rogers, '37, crowning.

Regents Appoint Department Head

Make Five Changes in Lineup of Faculty; Witman Back as Assistant Professor.

Prof. V. Royce West was promoted to head of the department of foreign languages by the Board of Regents at a meeting April 12. Mr. West has been acting head of the department during the past year.

Shepherd L. Witman, political science instructor, who has been on leave of absence the last two years studying for his Ph. D. degree at Harvard, was promoted to assistant professor.

Charles Matthews and Alvin Friedman were appointed assistants in the department of chemistry to succeed Phillip Rickabaugh. Rickabaugh resigned recently to accept a position as chemistry instructor at South High school.

Paul C. Peterson was named extension assistant in educational dramatics, and Miss Ehrma Donley extension instructor in commercial subjects.

They Shall Not Pass

Tram, Tram, the Boys Are Marching ---I'm Just a Hiker, Aren't We All?

While street car men were striking, University students were hiking—whether they belonged to the W. A. A. or not.

That is, some of them were hiking, but random reports infer that the number who fell back on the dogs were far outnumbered by those who fell back on the handiest ride—with fathers, next-door neighbors, boy friends, girl friends, and jitneys.

About half the student body live near the University, so that the street car strike did not affect them. Those who live in the south and west parts of Omaha and those who live in Council Bluffs, however, faced a drastic dilemma Monday morning when five or ten miles lay between them and college and not a street car was in sight.

Hook or Hookey?

For the majority, spring fever reduced the problem to a choice between hooking a ride and playing hookey. Some hitch-hiked their way in three or four shifts. Only a few never arrived at all, according to reports from the registrar's office.

As for ye editors, they got here via the old man's car, and the thumb, respectively.

Sig Taus Stay Home

Members of Sigma Tau Delta, Omaha's literary fraternity, decided that the beauties of spring could be better appreciated from the bedroom window than from the sidewalk and called off their meeting Wednesday night.

Practice teachers were dismissed from university classes early so that they would have time to hoof it to their practice classes.

Hitch Hikes 94 Blocks

Charles Sevik, '35, 2415 South 48th street, which is 94 blocks from the science hall, if we can still add, hitch hiked to the University. Mary Brown, '35, who lives at 3015 South 24th street, hitch hiked, too, but we don't claim that's news.

Durand Low Man For Century Dash

Gym Class Man Dashes 100 Yards in 11.4 Seconds; Other Low Marks.

Running with tennis shoes on slippery, uneven ground at Kountz park Monday and Wednesday, the gym classes turned in surprising times for the 50 and 100-yard dash events in the physical efficiency tests given by Assistant Physical Director Lee Grossman.

Roy Brown and Don Lauritsen made the best times in the 50-yard dash, tying at 5.8 seconds. Al Schiller was second with 5.9, and Joe Barker, Bill Durand, Bob Lloyd, and Sol Mann each made the sprint in six seconds even.

In the 100-yard dash, Bill Durand scampered the distance in 11.4 seconds, Al Schiller made it in 11.5, and "Tiny John" Holyoke and Joe Barker tied at 11.6. Sol Mann ran 95 yards, fell, and slid the remaining five yards for a mark of 11.8 seconds.

This morning the nine o'clock class held the 100-yard dash. The two o'clock class will start their dash events this afternoon.

150 Students Will Tour Omaha Industries Today

Chemistry Club's Six Excursions to Include Factories, Newspaper Plants, Smelters, Packing Houses, Baking Companies, Railroad Shops, Gas and Water Works.

DINNER AT Y. M. C. A. THIS EVENING

The Chemistry club's industrial tours start at 8:30 this morning with 150 signers on hand for seven and a half hours of excursions through Omaha factories, plants, and smelters.

Three sections, each divided into two groups, will make entirely different expeditions. The sections are planned according to special interests. There are general, chemical, and engineering divisions.

Participants are paying their own expenses.

Dinner at Y. M. C. A.

Following the tours, there will be a dinner in the evening at the Y. M. C. A., Seventeenth and Harney streets. Sixty cents will be charged for the dinner.

Richard Schaefer will be toastmaster for a program that includes readings, dances, and a play.

Guests of honor at the dinner will be Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Sealock and Dr. and Mrs. W. Gilbert James.

Four Stops Apiece

Each of the six groups will make four stops, the stay at each building averaging two hours.

FERA STUDENT AID

AN effort to make the present FERA aid to students permanent is now in motion. This movement is a very worthy one and is deserving of the support of every friend of young people and of education.

FERA aid to students makes possible the attendance at college of a great number of young people who otherwise would add to the already glutted labor market. Instead of being forced to spend their time in idleness destructive to their moral fiber and confidence in themselves, these individuals are given an opportunity to acquire knowledge that will stand them in good stead when better times return.

FERA student aid has proven a success. The next step is to make it permanent; thereby placing the United States in a class with the enlightened nations of Europe, which have long aided deserving students get their education.

Dave Lewis, Council Bluffs student, stayed at school all night during the strike. Beth Griess, another C. B. resident, slept at an aunt's house near the University.

Hot Dogs!

Paul Lange, '36, World-Herald reporter, has been fanning his "puppies" plenty since the street railway strike began Monday.

Lange lives at Twenty-fourth and Manderson streets. During the past week he has been commuting twice daily between his home and the World-Herald plant, Fifteenth and Farnam streets.

"I don't mind the walk down and back in the afternoon, but it's the trek home after I get off work at midnight that gets me down," Lange said.

Between classes and trips to the World-Herald plant Lange can be found in his room in the Spalding apartment resting his feet and conserving energy for his next trip downtown.

More Hoofers

John Williams, '36, tramped all the way from 1515 South 29th street when he didn't ride. Lucile Crew hiked from 3617 North 42nd street.

Franklin Buxton, '35, our star reporter, also walked to school from his home at 4720 North 36th avenue, but it wasn't anything new.

"I've always walked every day, so I would be in shape for this strike," stated Buxton.

Once Was Enough

Edward Scouten, '37, 218 South 42nd street, walked to school Monday. Now he comes to school in a jitney bus.

"Once was enough," says Ed. After Bill Metzger hitch hiked to school Monday in only half an hour, he served notice that he will continue the practice. It takes him one hour to get to school by street car.

Several members of the International Relations club recently ordered sets of 20 books from the World Peace Foundation, Boston, Mass. Imagine their embarrassment when the books arrived at the University Monday afternoon with all the street cars in the city tied up due to the strike.

More students solved the problem of getting the books home by taking some of them home each day.

Easter and Spring Vacation Provide Activities Off Campus for Omahans

Mid-semester examinations were not all that University of Omaha students had to keep them busy during the first two weeks of April, with Easter and spring vacation providing numerous activities off the campus.

Out of town students left Omaha Tuesday afternoon, April 10, or Wednesday morning, April 11, for homes outstate and in eastern Iowa.

Church and social activities engaged many students.

Vice Versa Dance At Birchwood

A vice versa dance at the Birchwood club Friday, April 6, was attended by mostly university students. Maxine Munt, '34, and Mary Jane Stamm, '37, sponsored the party.

Glen Cunningham, '35, and Robert S. Johnson, '35, received vegetable corsages.

Floyd Abbott Guest At Field Club

Floyd Abbott, '34, was a guest golfer at the Omaha Field Club Wednesday, April 4.

Gladys Reynolds' Play Given at Church

"There's Nothing New Under the Sun," an original play by Gladys Reynolds, a graduate student of Municipal University, was put on at the North Side Christian church Wednesday evening, April 18th.

Members of the cast are: Neva Heffin, Helen Hill, Charles Horejs, Jay Planteen, John Williams, Ralph MacDonald, Harold Becker, and Henning Frederickson.

Medal Meet Picks Team

Putnam, Anthes, Wilcox, McGowan Earn Places on Golf Aggregation.

Municipal university's golf team will start the season composed of Stanley Putnam, Bob Anthes, Howard Wilcox, and Don McGowan, according to indications, with most of the scores for the medal tournament in. Floyd Abbott will be alternate.

The tourney was held last week. Thirty-six holes over the Dundee course were played with picked partners.

Bad weather during spring vacation ran the scores high. Putnam had 174, Anthes 175, Wilcox 178, McGowan 183, and Abbott 184. Howard Fry and Carl Baade had 96's on the first 18, but had not reported their second 18. Eldon Rollin, team member in 1932, reported no scores.

Ten girls and a sponsor from Municipal University were invited to Nebraska Wesleyan's college play day at Lincoln, May 12th.
